LOCAL MENTION.

—Other local news on second, third, and eighth pages.

—We understand that Texas has received its annual school appropriation, and that the amount is $3,697,67.

—"Daughters of Jerusalem," sisters of Mercy, at Bellville, Va., are soliciting funds in this place for their institution.

—And now a little bug has been discovered which kills brook trout. Between the city bigbug and these little ones, the speckled beauty must have a wearisome time.

—"Where do liars go?" asks a Scranton minister of the gospel. Well, if you take our word for it, you will learn that some go fishing, and some go to church. And then, there are others.

—"The world is informed that the 'Lincoln cent' will make its appearance in the public mails about Aug. 15. It takes just as many of them to make a dollar as of the other kind.

—Susquehanna county prohibits are again upon the trail of the liquor dealers. The detectives have gathered a grist of testimony and the fuss will begin at county court at Montrose the 26th inst.

—It cost Patrick O'Malley and Michael Brennan only twenty-four hours in jail to ask a prominent citizen of Scranton for a chew of tobacco. No other "misbehavior" could be charged against them.

—As it didn't rain here on St. Swithen's Day, and did rain a mile or two outside this borough, the suburban population can come to town when it wishes to "get in out of the wet," for the next forty days.

—District Attorney Hill of Norwich on Thursday began an action against the officers of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company to compel them to pay their employees semi-monthly, as the law requires.

—Midsummer night dance and festival of River Street Improvement Society, at the new building of the Honesdale Footwear Co., Wednesday evening, July 24. Speak to your best girl about it, now, and you won't be allowed to miss a real enjoyable evening.

—We haven't tried this, but it may be all right: Fruit stains can be removed from the hands quickly by first washing them in luke-warm water and then holding them over a burning sulphur match. After the stains are gone rinse the hands in clean water.

—Our brother Red Men are informed that the Great Council has a project to erect a large Indian statue in New York harbor, in memorial to the late Chief. Each member will be asked to contribute three cents, in addition to the appropriation made by the great council, at Harrisburg.

—Another boy bather drowned. Theodore Payne, of Port Jervis, went alone to the Delaware river to swim. His clothing on the bank attracted some one's attention, later, and an investigation resulted in the discovery of the lad's body lying in fifteen feet of water. He could not swim.

—John Costello, a member of Scranton's select council, is trying to have an ordinance passed, prohibiting children under fourteen years, from attending, unattended by parents or guardians, the moving picture show. This brings the children under evil influences. We have an idea that John's head is level on that subject.

—It will become necessary soon, if auto tragedies continue to increase, to have a law enacted that each machine, on the public highway shall be preceded a short distance by a pedestrian who will ring a bell, or in some other way notify people that Juggernaut is approaching. That would reduce the auto speed, some, but it would also have a tendency to save human life.

—Carbondale has diphtheria.

—Mr. A. Robinson has leased the old Central Theatre building for manufacturing purposes.

—Horace Williams has sold his house and lot on West street, to Frank Lent, of Eleventh street.

—Daylight is very noticeably shrinking, at both ends. Probably you have noticed it—in the evening.

—People who claim to be wise on the subject say that there will be an enormous chestnut crop this year.

—The Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church will hold a cake sale in the chapel Friday afternoon, July 23rd. Sale begins at 3 p. m.

—Lizzie Tauchek, aged six years, died in Scranton Thursday last, from eating "ham bologna." You don't really care for ham bologna, anyway. Do you?

—A little girl, aged ten years, was buried alive in a sand pile, at Scranton, Saturday morning. After being buried twenty minutes she was dug out unconscious and will recover.

—Pennsylvania can, in a few days, sit up straight, and tilt her nose at her less wealthy sisters, as she is the only state in the Union really owing nothing.

—Ralph Smith, of Scranton, age 10 years, when chided for misconduct by his father, on Sunday, shot himself in the abdomen. He is alive, but in a precarious condition.

—If you wish your children to eat ice cream, let them buy it of some respectable dealer. Several deaths of children have recently occurred in neighboring cities, from eating ice cream in cones, bought of push-cart vendors.

—A dog tackled a nest of rattlesnakes, at Freehold, Wednesday, in defence of two little girls, whom he accompanied. The dog was bitten several times and swelled to twice his natural size, but was still alive at last report.

—White Mills and Hawley on Sunday played the second of a series of five games of baseball, at the former place. White Mills won by a score of 5 and 0. We understand that $200 will change hands when three games are won by either club.

—A citizen of Scranton was severely bitten by Abe Getz's dog. The sufferer wanted to secure a handful or so of the cur's hair, with which to ward off hydrophobia. Abe objected and a "scrap" ensued, in which he "won out." A law-suit is now on.

—The building on Twelfth street, owned by Mrs. Oliver Bunnell, which was, about a month since, badly damaged by fire, is being repaired. The building adjacent, where the fire originated and which is owned by druggist Peil, is being torn down.

—The department of public works at Scranton has decided to close Lake Lincoln to bathers on Sundays. Nonsense! Some people never have time to bathe, except on the Sabbath—others no time at all. "Cleanliness is next to Godliness"—let 'em wash.

—We live and learn. An antiquarian has discovered that the bow on a man's hat band is all that is left of two tails to the band, which were tied or pinned to the left shoulder to prevent the "lid" from soaring away with the wind. Valuable discovery.

—We are feeling rather antiquated, because almost every newspaper in the surrounding country has had at least one "big snake" story. If any of our readers has one, please send it in at once. We could make one, but we have conscientious scruples against telling things which aren't true.

—The ice-cream social, under the auspices of the ladies of the Presbyterian church, Thursday evening, was a very successful affair. Chinese lanterns were swung over the lawn and upon the street fronting it, and twenty-five young ladies, attired in white, attended to the wants of patrons. The receipts are said to have been very gratifying.

—Weather prognosticators in this vicinity declare that we need not look for rain for six weeks yet. The St. Swithen's day chestnut concerning rain, is still believed by many, notwithstanding that it rained, in spots, all about us on the day named. It will rain when it gets ready, St. Swithen's day parables to the contrary notwithstanding.

—The Olyphant Citizen has this to say about the "Home Coming Week" celebration to be held here in September: Honesdale borough is making arrangements for a "Home Coming Week." Last year Honesdale people ran a special train to Olyphant to attend and take part in parade. We owe something to the people of the Maple City and should join with them in making their affair a success. There are a great many Wayne county people in this vicinity.

—A Carbondale citizen has made application for divorce from his wife of three years, on the grounds that she is uncongenial and wayward. Her entire offence consists in the fact that she, being too healthy and robust to conform to fashion's requirements, measuring when married 5 feet and 7 inches in height and weighing 136 pounds, has for the past three months been dieting, and now weighs but 115 pounds. This, he claims, has soured her disposition, making it impossible to dwell with her in peace and harmony, etc. Poor chap.

—Dog days came with Sunday last.

—The luscious, juicy watermelon is in its prime, now.

—Last afternoon service in the Presbyterian church next Sunday at 5 o'clock.

—John Boyd has finished the painting of a sign on the front part of the Durland-Weston Shoe factory.

—Susquehanna, Pa., is patting itself upon the back, in the anticipation of postal free delivery in the near future.

—The Central Hotel, at Great Bend, Pa., was destroyed by fire at 2 o'clock on Saturday morning. Kerosene lamp exploded.

—Unclaimed letters remain at the postoffice, for the following persons: W. B. Baker, Kassen Hassen, John McColligan.

—The Katz Underwear Company will entertain its help and friends at a dance in the new addition to its factory on Friday evening.

—Work has been commenced on the improvement to the entrance of St. John's Catholic church. The work is in charge of Martin Caulfield.

—We are informed that a new comet has been discovered, with a tail 2,000,000 miles long. Let us pray that it won't be "swished" in this direction.

—Honesdale and vicinity still pray for rain. If the newspapers of the surrounding country are to be believed, we are being discriminated against in this rain business.

—Catholics everywhere are warned against a chap who is soliciting funds for a monastery. He is said to be an impostor, by Rev. P. O. Donnell, of Bellevue.

—On account of increase in business J. A. Robinson, who conducts a factory in the Buel Dodge building on South Main street, has leased the second floor of the Liberty Hall building.

—Company E returned Saturday from the annual inspection and encampment of State troops at Mt. Gretna. The boys were evidently glad that the "picnic" was one more over.

—We were remarking upon the extraordinary beauty and brilliancy of Monday evening's rainbow. "H'm!" said Jadwin, "that's a Honesdale rainbow. Always have that kind here."

—A disgusted citizen remarked yesterday that "a man who can invent fly-paper that flies will stick to, and humans won't, will have J. D. Rockefeller looking like a three-cent piece in six months.

—Our townsman, Mr. August P. Rehbein, who has traveled in the West, has sent us an interesting letter, the first part of which appears in this issue. The balance will be given in Friday's Citizen.

—The Bell Telephone Company has finished the work of rebuilding its lines in Honesdale and vicinity. The gang employed by the company left town on Saturday. They will do work in Carbondale and then go to Hawley.

—No retreat of the priests of the Scranton diocese will be held this year owing to the fact that suitable accommodations cannot be secured. Since the Glen Summit hotel has been abandoned a desirable location has been lacking.

—At a meeting of Protection Engine Company No. 3, it was decided to hold their annual picnic on Aug. 5th at Bellevue Park. On account of the Old Home Week celebration the company will not hold their annual parade.

—Harold Meyers, aged 12 years, on Friday evening last at the opera house moving picture show, "won out" in both the pie-eating contest and the boxing match for boys. Harold seems to be quite "strenuous" youngster.

—The newspapers are commenting wonderingly upon the fact that a Chicago woman has a cat for which she paid $525.00. Pshaw! A Honesdale man has a $200 Thomas cat, and we have never even mentioned it, before.

—A marriage license has been granted to John O. Jones and Mrs. Ella Taft, both of Mt. Pleasant. On July 12th Mrs. Taft was granted a divorce from her husband, Mervin Taft, who was recently sentenced to a term of imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Barn Burned—House Scorched.

At about 4 o'clock, Friday afternoon, the gong sounded a fire alarm. The blaze was in a barn, on Green street, owned by Samuel Hawker, and was caused by flying sparks from a brush fire, nearby. Texas Chemical company was soon on the spot but the fire had made too much progress to be subdued, and the barn was destroyed. The company directed its attention to the dwelling, which was in close proximity, and succeeded in saving it, although the paint was badly scorched. The loss, we are informed, is about $800. No insurance.
